

Virtual Travel Itinerary

- Plan ahead or fill in your itinerary after you've explored a bit. Keep track of where you've been and what you experienced.
- Visit the travel forum and tell fellow travelers about great online resources you've discovered along the way, or learn about what others are doing.
- Remember this is just a guide. You are not bound by your itinerary.
- Feel free to explore on and off this site so long as you abide by site and forum rules.

Safe travels!

What destination will you explore today?

Why do you want to go?

Can you find your location on a map like Google Earth?

Do you already know something about your destination?

What is the destination like? (Think about and explore: geographic location, climate, distance from you, surrounding area and landmarks; or take a guess!)

What about nature, the environment, or the geography of your destination are you hoping to learn?

Have you explored other places before? Was it in person or virtual? How do you think this will be similar? How do you think it will be different?
